

LEFT NAKED IN SNOW AFTER BEING PARBOILED

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 30.—Charges that Turkish officials decimated the Greek population along the Black Sea coast, 250,000 men, women and children living between Sinope and Ordu, without the shedding of blood but by "parboiling" the victims in Turkish baths and turning them half-dead out to die of pneumonia or other diseases is the story of an Anatolian witness made in a letter from Dr. George E. White, representative of the American Committee for Relief in the Near East, made public here today.

Dr. White was the birthplace of the Philadelphia Phlegmen. Dr. White re-

ARTILLERY WAS OF GOOD SERVICE

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 30.—Official detailed reports on the recent Greek expedition into Turkey to drive out Villa troops, when the battle there suggested lives of Americans in the field, especially praise to the work of both the artillery and the infantry.

It is said that some of the achievements of the second battalion of the 25th field artillery under command of Lieutenant Colonel H. L. Newbold were as spectacular as any in the great war when the small nature of the engagement is taken into consideration.

The reports say Colonel Newbold had his men and guns in so closely behind the skirmish line that they were ready to fire before the infantry had made contact, and the instant the command to fire was given the sharpshooters began sweeping the fence corners and grandstand of the race track, where the Villa troops were, exactly on the target.

Colonel Newbold's batteries got off sixty-four rounds with such speed and accuracy that observers report the action like a performance of the prize gun teams in France which made new records in that line.

The "Moughbays" of the infantry of course come in for their usual share of praise which is in no way diminished by the mention of the success of the engineers, cavalry and artillery.

SALVAGE MEN SAVE CARGOES

(Correspondence Associated Press)
LONDON, July 4.—Salvage crews face death in many ways trying to save the vessels sunk in the war by German submarines. One of the most perilous incidents of this service was that of a navy commander who cut away the nose of a live torpedo that had become jammed in the deck of a destroyer. So dangerous was the task that the naval authorities towed the destroyer three miles out to sea before they would permit the attempt.

This salvage work has advanced very rapidly and become very profitable. Submersible lifting devices never before thought of have been devised and put into successful operation. Dangers from gases due to decaying grain cargoes have been eliminated by scientific research. Diving appliances have been greatly improved.

The cutting of steel plates under water is now only a detail and the construction of the standard hatch to cover holes in hulls has reached the point where it is now merely a part of the day's work of the salvage men.

We note also that dry goods are reported "going higher." Does that include the tight skirts?

Killing Americans in Mexico is becoming as popular as the great outdoor sport of murdering Jews in Armenia.

calls, and Ordu is just beyond Cape Jason which is still preserved in memory of the Argonauts and the Golden Fleece. The letter, written to Professor J. P. Kestides, secretary of the Greek Relief Committee here, describes the new method of ridding the land of its inhabitants which, it is said, was somewhat different from that employed by the Turks against the Armenians.

The worst of the crimes laid to the Turks, according to Dr. White, were committed in the winters of 1916 and 1917 when orders were issued for the deportation of the Greeks along the Black Sea coast. The people, he wrote, were crowded into the steam rooms of the baths in Chorum under the pretense of "sanitary regulations" and after being tortured for hours, were turned out of doors into snow almost knee deep, and without lodging or food. Their garments, which had been taken from them for fumigation, were lost, ruined or stolen. Most of the victims, ill and shivering, contracted tuberculosis and other pulmonary diseases and "died in swarms" on the way to exile, the latter declared.

Dr. White said that in the province of Bursa, where there were more than 25,000 village Greeks, now less than 10,000 survive and every Greek settlement has been burned. The number of orphans, including some Armenian and Turkish children, in the entire district, it is said, aggregated 60,000. Since the armistice, the doctor wrote, many of the deportees have been returning to their ruined homes.

BLINDNESS DUE TO WANT FOOD

(Correspondence Associated Press)

WARSAW, Poland, June 28.—The abnormal number of children born blind in this country during the past three years despite the fact that the parents were healthy is due mainly to the malnutrition of mothers, according to a report issued today by the American Red Cross.

The increasing amount of blindness among children at birth was thought at first to herald the advent of some new war disease. But investigation by American experts proved that the famished condition of the mothers

GAMBLING LICENSE

ORDINANCE ADOPTED

The city's gambling ordinance was passed Monday night by the city council by unanimous vote and will be effective on August 5. It requires the payment of a quarterly license of $150 for every table on which poker, stud poker, whist, solo or five hundred are played, those being the five games which Attorney General Fowler and District Attorney Summerfield have decided may be played under the present state law regulating gambling. The ordinance makes it a crime to play any of the games mentioned on a money basis without first securing a license. The punishment is fixed at imprisonment for from thirty days to six months or a fine of from $250 to $500, or both fine and imprisonment, reacted on the eye-sight of their infants.
